Operational Narrative Wilhelmshaven, Feb 3

100th "A" Group

- l. General Narrative: The 100th "A" Group took off at 0716 hours. By 0757 hours the Group had assembled over the base at 9,000 feet. The group few as the lead group in the 13th "A" Combat Wing of the Third Fomb Division.
- 2. Unfavorable weather conditions hampered the wing assembly At 0950 hours the Group passed five miles northeast of Cromer and started out on course since the Combat Wing was formed and in good shape. Three miles south of Egment the lead Pathfinder aircraft became nonfunctional so the secondary pathfinder phane took over and proceeded to the I.P. as briefed. Upon reaching the target area the second Pathfinder aircraft failed. Endeavoring to find some objective, the ship flew a 330 degree heading, furning from the 88 degree heading briefed. As the bombardier pas sed over some believed to be Wilhelmshaven which was barely distinguishable . . through the clouds and haze, he salvoed his bombs. Bombs were away and dropped by estimation since there wasn't sufficient time for a run as the target became visible only then passing over it. It was not possibel to posituvely indentify the town but it is believed that there was damge done to it. Some crew members report bomb bursts observed in built up area and black smoke in area en route from the target.
- 3. Flak was meager and inaccurate around target and over the coast going out. No enemy aircraft were encountered. Poor weather conditions prevailed throughout the mission with 10/10 overcast during the bombing.

100th "B" Group

l. General Narrative: The 100th "B" Group formation took off at 0720 hours. By 0830 hours the group formation had assembled over the base at 8,000 feet. The 13th "B" Combat Wing rendezvous was made over the Channel, rather than as briefed, because we had mistaken two other groups for the 13th "B" Wing and had "S"d to allow them to catch up. Finding the 13th "B" Wing was ahead of us we intercepted them over the Channel.

Mission Feb 3 (cont'd)

Arrived at the enemy coast 1028 hours at 52 38 North, 04 40 East. Arrived at the I.P. at 1051 hours and made a turn at 52 46 North 07 15 East. The target is uncertain; but I believe that it was Wilhelmshaven. Bombs were away at 1100 hours. We left the coast 1110 hours and crossed the English coast 1335 hours.

- 2. Clowd formations forced the group to 28,000 feet. No bombing aides ere used and the bombs were dropped on the lead Pathfinder. No visual results ere observed as there was 10/10 overcest.
- 3. Three ME 110's were observed being chased by P-38's in target area; no other enemy aircraft were seen. Flak was sporatic and light.
  - 4. All of our aircraft returned safely from this operation.

OPERATIONAL NARRATIVE, February 4, 1944. FRANKFURT

- l. General Narrative: The 100th "A" Group formation tookoff at 0814 hours. By 0835 hours the Group had assembled in fair formation over the base and started to climb to altitude. We reached altitude at 1020 hours and on time, rendexvousing with the 390th Groups along the wing assembly line. The 100th "A" Group flew in the high position, with the two 390th Groups filling in the other two positions in the 13th "A" Combat Wing.
- 2. For the route flown, times, and formation, rreference is made to the navigator's narritive, his log and attached formation charts.
- 3. Aircraft Not Attacking: 21 aircraft took-off from this base. 19 aircraft were dispatched. Aircraft #42-39799 is missing in action and is assumed to have gone over the target. #42-30487 turned back at 1129 hours at 51 40 North, 04 27 East. #42-30380 turned back at 1025 hours at an altitude of 20,000 feet over Norwich.

100th "B" Group

1. General Narrative: The 100th "B" Group formation tookoff at 0831 hours. By 0855 hours the group formation had assembled over the base at 2.000 feet. We ded not rendezvous with the other two groups in the wing as they were late. At 1045 hours we rendezvoused with the 13th "B" Combat Wing, flying in the low postition thereof. The formation was good. Our assembly with the Air Division was made at the last control point in England, and at an altitude of 18,000 feet. Our ascent to bombing altitude started at the English Coast at 1055 hours and at a rate of climb of 200 feet per minute. Our escort of P-38s was very good. At 1127 51 41 North, 0304 East we saw a free barrage balloon.

After the rally point, the aircraft of the lead group in our wing were strung out somewhat. We encountered a good deal of flak, which was accurate and le vel. Strong wings which varied at the different group levels caused a considerable variation in the I.A.S. of the several groups.

2. Aircraft Not Attacking: 21 aircraft of this group took off. 17 aircraft were dispatched. #42+31412 turned back at 0900 hours over Diss at an altitued of 2,500 feet, landing at 0907 hours. #42-31389, #42-37800 turned back at 1118 hours, #42-6087 turned back 10 miles south of the base. Aircraft #42-30758 and #42-37975 are missing in action.

- 3. Suggest that Combat Wings fly in trail formation rather than abreast.
  - 4. Three of our aircraft are missing in action.

ADDITIONAL NARRATIVE ON MISSION

In the "A" Group the A.F.C.E. was used and the bombs were dropped on the pathfinder. The bomb-bay doors were opened at 1200 hours and the bombs were away at 1222 hours. There was solid overcast over the city and there were no visual results, though they were at 25,100 feet over the city area, probably Offenback.

About 25 single engined enemy aircraft intercepted our formation near Liege on route from the target. They made several passes at the low group but seemed to concentrate on straglers.
Flak was observed at many indefinite places along the route. Some report that it was almost continuous over enemy territory but most of it was inaccurate on our group.

Aircraft #779 which is missing from "A" group was scheduled to fly #3 postion in the 2nd element of the high squadron. It did not fly in that postion and is not believed to have joined either of our groups. The following are the members of the crew which is missing: Lt J W Brown, Lt A F Fitzpatrick, Lt T H Kleinman, Lt L W Clements, S/Sgt G E Toomey, S/Sgt L D Florida,

Mission Feb 4 (cont'd)

S/Sgt C F Keen, S/Sgt W L Kemp, S/Sgt H J Janderup, S/Sgt R A

Tangradi.

The "B" Group approached from 15 miles East of the briefed I.P., and the bombs were dropped on notification of the Pathfinder by flares at 1222. There were no pictures available that show bomb bursts, but bombs away pictures indicate that the aircraft were over a city on a river, probably Offenback. Visability of 9/10 obscured any visual results.

Flying low group in the formation "B" encountered no enemy aircr aircraft. About 30 enemy aircraft were observed but all consentrating on stragglers. Many dogfights were seen with our fighter escort. The continuous flak over enemy territory was inaccurate.

Aircraft #'s 758 and 975 are missing. 758 was in postion over the target, but soon thereafter began to lag behind. At 1237 hours it pulled away to the right near Wiesbeden and began to loose altitude slowly, and was last seen still going down but under control. No chutes were observed. 975 pulled out of its postion in the high squadron of the formation at 1332 hours and headed for the undercast, smoking but under control. The following named men were on the ships and are missing in action: #758 * Lt R H McPhee, Lt F J Nelson, Lt M S Keker, Lt BB Levine, S/Sgts G C Scarlett, L J Bernagozzi, D J Shaw, B H Pate, J T Delemar; #975 ~ Lt's W E Green, J P Jensen, J J Joyce, J S Hamilton, T/Sgt R B Beran, S/Sgt's R P Valentik, R K Anderegg, S F Tisdale, H J Waskewicz, L E Leist.

OPERATIONAL NARRATIVE Feb 5 PARIS

l. General Narritive: The 100th Group formation took off from this base of 0750 hours. By 0830 hours the group had assemble over the base at 5,000 feet, in good formation and on the climb. The 13th Combat Wing assembled at 0947 hours in good formation. The 100th Group lead, the 95th low, and the 390th in the high position. The wing assembly was briefed at 19,000 feet over Buncher 11 at 0948 hours. All three groups assembled on the leader who was at 18,000 feet. At 0948 we were 5 miles South of Funcher 11, with all three groups in good formation. The Air Division assembly line was between Splasher 7 and 9 at 19,000 feet. However, we had to descend to 17,000 feet under the clouds. The Combat Wingswere not sighted until after departing the English Coast. 19,000 feet was reached at Beachy Head. Our climb continued to 23,000 feet, which was bombing altitude. This was reached just prior to our crossing the French Coast. An attempt to circle in order to get into the proper Division assembly, but this was unsuccessful because of the proximity of other wings. We there fore continued in the #2 postion instead of the #3 in the Division as briefed.

Fighter support - P-47's and P-51's - was excellent. Flak was seen at two different places: meager at Rouen, the same was directed at another group; moderate and fairly accurate over South Paris, the same being directed at our group.

The briefed bombing altitude was changed en route to the I.P. in order to climb over a layer of clouds which obscured the I.P. and the primary target. We proceeded to the secondary target, which we bombed t 24,000 feet instead of 23,000. The results were good to excellent. Direct hits were observed. No enemy aircraft attacks were made against the 13th Combat Wing. However, on attack was observed on the 4th Combat Wing with 6 to 15 enemy fighters. No B-17's were seen to be hit. Groups in the 13th Combat Wing took interval on a direct run to the target, since no I.P. was set. The Wing was reformed three minutes after bombs away.

High clouds interfered with the bombing of the primary target.

2. Aircraft Not Attacking: Twenty-three aircraft took-off from this base, including three spares. Twenty aircraft were dispatched. Spare aircraft #42-3413 attacked the target with the 39th Group formation, flying in the lead position of the thired element of the high squadron. Spare aircraft #42-37796 turned back at 1030 hours from 50 44 North, 00 15 East, altifute 23,000 feet; #42-39 983 turned back at 1000 hours, from 8,500 feet over Chelmsford; #42-31051 turned back at 1042 hours altitude 22,600 feet; #42-30278 turned back at 0945 hours over Ipswich, and #42-30091 failed to take off.

Mission Feb 5 (cont'd)

All of our sircraft returned.

OPERATIONAL NARRATIVE, February 6 EVERAUX FAUVILLE

1. The 100th Group formation took-off at 0746 hours. By 0810 hours the group formation had assembled over the field at 2,000 feet. The 13th Combat Wing rendexvous was made at 0936 hours at 21,000 feet over Buncher #12. The 95th Group led, 100th flew high, and the 390th, which was supposed to fly low, did not make the assembly on time. The wing formation was dood.

The climb to bombing altitude from 21,000 feet was begun at 50 12 North, 0040 East, at 0957 hours, and was mae at 150 L.A.S. 200 feet per minute. Bombing altitude was reached at 1014 hours in good formation. The enemy coast was crossed at 1013 hours.

The route to the target was as briefed, but the primary target was overcast, so Evrewux-Fauville airport was picked as a target and bombed. The gighter cover was gold on the briefed course. The 100th Group is the only group that bombed this target. to my knowledge.

The briefed rally point was not used, but the Combat Wing was reformed a few minutes after bombs away, at approximately 1155 hours.

The enmey coast was re-crossed at 1221 hours at 50 02 North, 01 18 East, and the descent was begun here. The English Coast was re-crossed at 1243 hours at Dungeness. Home base was reached at 1321 hours, the lead aircraft landing at 1331 hours. F

- 2. Aircraft Not Attacking: Twenty-four aircraft left this base in formation, including three spares. Aircraft #42-31074 turned back just abter taking off, #42-6087 turned back at 0930 hours, #42-37796 turned back at 1005 hours. Twenty-two aircraft were dispatched.
  - 3. No aircraft are missing.

ADDITIONAL NARRATIVE

The weather was clear over the target area and the visual results of the bombing were good with direct hits observed. A run was made on St. Andre but bombs were not dropped as there was a group below. The bombardier, Lt Armanini, saw Evreux Fauville airfield 90 degrees to the right, made our turn to the right, waw a low group below us crossing the heading and hesitated to drop bombs. This gorup cleared the target, and bombs were dropped with excellent results.

Though much fighter activity was observed at a distance, only one pass was made by enemy aircraft at our low squadron from 10 o'clock low without effect. Flak was for the most part low and inaccurate.

OPERATIONAL NARRATIVE, Feb 10, 1944 FRUNSWICK

- l. General Narrative: The 100th Group formation took off at 0700 hours. By 0810 hours the Group had formed at 11,000 feet over Splasher #6. The Group circled Splasher #6 until 0825 hours, climbing, then took a heading to Buncher #11, where we joined the 390th Group, which was leading. The climb to bombing altitude, which was 24,000 feet rather than 23,000 feet as briefed, was begun at 0850 hours, at Buncher #11. Bombing altitude was reached at 0918 hours. For the route flown, times, and formation, reference is made to the navigator's narrative, his leg and the formation charts.
- 2. Aircraft Not Attacking: Seventeen aircraft departed Splasher #6 in formation at 0825 hours. Aircraft #42-30152 turned back at 0705 hours from 9,000 altitude, #42-30278 turned back at 0729 hours from 5,400 feet, #42-37936 turned back at 0835 hours, at 17,000 feet, 42-37783 at 0840 ffom 1,800, #42-3088 at 0908 from 19,000; 42-30788 at 0915 hours from 21,000; 42-37796 at 0930 from 24,4000; 42-38016 at 1022, from 22,500. Sixteen aircraft were dispatched.

Aircraft 42-30170 aborted at 1037 from 23,300; 42-37800 at 1045 from 20,000; 42-39872 at 1102 hours from 23,000.

Missing aircraft: $2-31265 and 42-30062 are missing.

ADDITIONAL NARRATIVE

The bombing on this mission was done through 4/10 to 6/10 undercast. No bombing aids were used; the bombs being dropped on the smoke bombs of the Pathfinder. What visual results there were indicated that our bombs hit in the center of town.

Very severe attacks by enemy aircraft were seen to be made against other groups in the formation but there were no direct attacks against the 100th Group. On this mission a for engined enemy aircraft was noted to have attacked a straggling B-17 and to have shot it down. After shooting it did a wing up and four engines were plainly visible. Most of the flak was meager and inaccurate, but at the target it was tense and accurate on the low group.

OPERATIONAL NARRATIVE Feb 18, 1944 Targets in NW France

General Narrative: The 100th "A" Group formation, consisting of 21 aircraft, took off from this base. The first aircraft took off at 1331 hours, the last at 1345 hours. By 1355 hours, the Group Assembled at 1,000 feet over the b se. The Squadrons were echeloned to the right, and proceeded alone as the 100th "A" Group.

The mission was entirely uneventful. No enemy fighters were seen. No opposition was encountered, although flak was seen in a few bursts, which were light and inaccurate.

The target was attacked by squadrons. We did not rally as a group after bombs away, but returned to base in squadron formation.

2. Aircraft Not Attacksing: Twenty-one aircraft departed this base in formation; 21 aircraft were dispatched; 21 aircraft attacked the target; and 21 aircraft returned to base.

General Narrative: The 100th "B" Group, consisting of 21 aircraft, took off at 1315 hours; the last ship took off at 1330 hours. By 1340 hours the Group had formed at 2,000 feet South of the base. We started our climb to the South by squadrons in trail. At Splasher #6 we fell into echelon to the right formation. There was no rendezvous with the Conbat Wing nor Air Division. Our climb to altitude started from over the base at 1340 hours and continued to mid-channel. The climb was slow - 200 feet per minute, L.A.S. 100 miles per hour. Bombing altitude was 12,000 feet. The Formation was good throughout the mission as squadrons.

No enemy fighters were sighted. However, in the vicinity of St Omar and for 10 miles south therefrom we encountered light, inaccurate flak - which was apparently directed toward other groups in the vicinity.

Aircraft Not Attacking: All 21 aircraft took off, attacked, and returned.

OPERATIONAL NARRATIVE, Feb 20 ARNIMSWALDE

- l. General Narrative: The main 100th Group formation took off at 0803 hours. By 0910 hours the formation had assembled over Buncher #11 at 10,000 feet. The 13th "B" Combat Wing rendezvous was made over Splasher #6 at 0915 hours, altitude 10,000 feet in very good formation.
- 2. Aircraft Not Attacking: Twenty aircraft departed Buncher #11, 10,000 feet at 0910 hours in formation. Three aircraft flew with the 95th "A" Group, three with the 390th "B" Group, making a total of twenty-seven dispatched.

Aircraft #42-37790 and #42-39792 are missing.

ADDITIONAL NARRATIVE

The bombing was done through 10/10 overcast on Pathfinder flares. The 13 "B" Combat Wing bombed the secondary target.

Our navigators vary as to the location of bombed target. Some name Stettin, others Swinemunde, Schwerin, or Rostok. Some Smoke was seen coming through the clowds from the target area.

Enemy fighter attacks against the formation began at the Danish coast and continued for about 30 minutes. There were about 30 single engined and 12 multi engined enemy craft. Camouflaged coloring of these ships made them hard to see at any distance. Fighters seemed to concentrate on the low and bead squadrons and it is believed that this attack got 3 B-17's from the 390th Group and 2 from the 4th Combet Wing. At 1345 along the Baltic coast attacks started again and all squadrons were hit. About 20 twin engined and 3 single engined fighters pressed attacks that lasted off and on for over an hour when enemy coast was crossed

The twin engined aircraft attacked from the dide and the rear flying four abreast. They fired rockets from 2000 to 800 yards out. Four engined planes were fireing rockets from the side of their fuselage while flying parallel to our formation. One FW 190 passed betw en the 100th and the 390th Groups and was observed to be carrying a bomb dangling from a cable. It was fired upon and jettisoned cable and all harmlessly. Mostly rockets and some 20mm were used by the enemy during this attack. Some flak was encountered on the west coast of Denmark, and over the target it was moderate with some accurate and of both barrage and continuous pointing varieties.

The pilot of our aircraft #790 was heard to say that he had been hit by a rocket and was going to try and make it to Sweeden.

Aircraft #792 which was flying with the 95th was seen to go down in the target area with the #2 engine on fire. It disappeared into the undercast under control. Members of the crews of these planes are as follows: Lt's R A Smith, O H Markussen, G C Scott, E Cribbs, T/Sgt I G Evans, S/Sgt E B Dyblie, T/Sgt T M Egan, S/Sgt's R L Dunbar, E Britko, and M E Udick. #792 - Lt's A J Harris, J Dutka, F/O M C West, Lt A A Marchiondo, T/Sgts R L Tujague, A Grasshoff, S/Sgts D A Petrecca, L L Errett, J A Martin, F J Kaczynski.

OPERATIONAL NARRATIVE, Feb 21, 1944 Targets of Opportunity

1. General Narrative - 100th "A" Group; 19 aircraft tookoff from this b se; the first at 0915 hours, the last at 0929 hours.
The Group assembled over the base by 0950 hours in good formation.

Flak was light and inaccurate. P-38s, P-47s, and P-51s - was good.

- 2. Aircraft Not Attacking: 19 aircraft were airbourne from this base; 16 aircraft we e dispatched and attacked the target. Aircraft #42-31256 turned back 18 miles South of Cromer from 23, 000 feet. #42-38011 turned back at 1223 from 23,000 feet. Aircraft #42-37796 is missing in action. No further particulars are available at this time.
- 1. General Narrative 100th "B" Group; 21 aircraft tookoff from this base, the first at 0930 hours. By 0958 hours we had assembled in good formation over the base. We flew low position with the 100th "A" Group in the lead position. There was no high position in the 13th "B" Combat Wing. Our formation was good throughout the mission. Flak was meagre and inaccurate.
  Fighter support was very good. Other than the fact that we did not bomb the primary target, there was nothing unusual during our flight.
- 2. Aircraft Not Attacking: 21 aircraft departed this base in formation. 19 aircraft were dispatched. #42-30088 turned back at 1330 hours from 21,000 feet, #42-31074 at 1300 hours from 21,500 feet. All aircraft of this Group formation returned to the base.

ADDITIONAL NARRATIVE

An initial rendezvous was not made due to faulty equipment, namely failure of the fluxgate compass, in the ladd ship of "A" Group. The 100th "A" Group left England 10 minutes late and picked up the 100th "B" Group approximately at the coast. The 13th "B" Wing then joined a wing immediately ahead of it and proceeded along the briefed route, 12 minutes behind schedule. At 1344 hours the lead Wing turned to the South leaving our course. As we could not proceed alone to our target and as we did not know their target we decided to bomb an airfield and withdraw with this wing. The airfield at 52 51 North, 08 25 East was bombed on AFCE from an indicated altitude of 22,800 feet.

An unidentified airdrome was bombed with good results. Photos show bombs hit in buildings along railroad that passes airdrome. Bomb burst indicate severe damage to both railroad and runways of the airdrome. Crews believe the airdrome to be located near Vechta.

No fighters attacked either "A" or "B" Groups though some enemy aircraft were seen being engaged by our escort. Flak encountered was light to redium and inaccurate at Osnabruck, Enschedi, and Rheine.

At 1347 hours our aircraft #796 straggled from formation but followed us over the target and continued behind our formation until 1430 hours when we were at 5230N - 0515 E. It had one engine feathered and another smoking. It turned back toward Holland and the pilot was heard on VHF to say that he was going down and would have to land in Holland. There were lots of friendly fighters about when this aircraft disappeared into the undercast. Members of this crew were: Lt's W H Fletcher, R M Roper, G A Browning, H D Venzie, T/Sgt's G A Reid, L T Callahan, S/Sgt's P J Giaquinto, J J Seman, A Sosik, D V Robb.

OPERATIONAL NARRATIVE, Feb 22 Abortive

- 1. General Narrative: 21 aircraft took off from this base at 0846 hours. The lead ship of the formation ennountered difficulty (engine trouble) and failed to take off with the formation. It took off thereafter; however, it was unable to catch up with the formation. Number 2 aircraft of the lead squadron took over the group lead and took the group up to 13,000 feet. Then the lead was taken over by the lead ship of the high squadron. The group assembly was good. The weather was very poor, but in spite of this our formation continued good. It was necessary to fly on instruments. Because of the weather we were unable to rendezvous with the 100th "F" Group or the Division. The mission was recalled at 1140 hours at 51 48 North and 02 35 East. All of the aircraft returned to base by 1247 hours.
- 2. Aircraft Not Attacking: None of the aircraft of this formation attacked the target.

100th "B" Group

1. General Narrative: 22 aircraft took off from this base at 0825 hours. Recall with all aircraft returning to this base was accomplished much in the manner of "A" Group.

OPERATIONAL NARRATIVE, FERUARY 24 ROSTOCK

l. General Narrative: The 100th "B" Group took off at 0745 hours. By 0815 hours the group formation had assembled over the field at 2,500 heet. By 0905 hours the 13th "A" Combat Wing had assembled over the feild at Aldeburgh, the 100th "B" Group leading, the 100th "A" Group flying low, and the 95th Group flying high - all in good formation.

The climb to bombing altitude was begun at 1040 hours, 54 09 North, 04 51 East, at 150 I.A.S., 200 feet per minute. Bombing altitude was reached at 1147 hours, the combat wing in good formation except fro the the low group, which was strung out. The low group had some enemy fighter attacks until they closed up and moved over under the lead group. The enemy coast was crossed at 1133 hours.

The briefed I.P. was not reached because of a complete 10/10 undercast. We turned back, made a 360 degree turn, gave the lead to the 390th Group as they had the only Pathfinder equipment that was working. They chose Rostock as the last resort and bombed by Pathfinder, going over the target abreast.

After bombing the other combat wings S'd, allowing the 13th "A" Combat Wing to resume the lead.

The enemy coast was re-crossed at 1624 hours, the English Coast was re-crossed at Cromer at 1813 hours. Home base was reached at 1825 hours, and the lead aircraft landed at 1830 hours.

2. Aircraft Not Attacking; Fifteen aircraft departed his base in formation including one Pathfinder aircraft. Fourteen aircraft were dispatched. Aircraft #42=30152 turned back at 0800 hours, 52 25 North, 02 25 North, 02 56 East, altitude 1,300 feet. This aircraft was not dispatched.

Aircraft #42-37800 landed at another base. All of our aircraft returned.

100th "A" Group

1. General Narrative: The 100th "A" Group took off and assembled, and flew the same route in the same combat wing as the 100th "B" Group.

2. Aircraft Not Attacking: Twenty two aircraft departed and all returned.

9,700 feet. Aircraft 42-30088 turned back at 1135 hours, from

ADDITIONAL NAR ATIVE

The bombing run was straight and level with no evasive action taken. There was flak - heavy but inaccurate - on the run. Pombs were dropped on the Pathfinder markers of the Wing ahead (45th Combat Wing) in the vicinity of Rostock through 10/10 overcast. No visual results at all.

3 ME 210's and 1 JU 88 attacked over Benmark, made five aggressive passes at our formation, and stayed with the formation for over an hour. Coming from the target, over the Danish Fast coast 6 ME 109's attacked in our vicinity, one passing right through the formation of the 100-A Group.

OPERATIONAL NARRATIVE, FEBRUARY 25 REGENSEIRG

- 1. The 100th "B" Group format on to k off at 0815 hours. By 0900 hours the group formation had assembled over splasher #6 at 5,000 feet. The 13 "B" Combat Wing assembled at 15,000 feet; over buncher #6 at 1016 hours.
- 2. Aircraft not attacking: Twenty one aircraft departed this bise in formation. Twenty one aircraft were dispatched.

Aircraft #42-31066 turned back at 1225 hours, from 20,000 feet. All aircraft in this group returned.

100TH "A" GROUP

- 1. The 100th "A" Group took off at 0832 hours. By 0920 hours the group formation had assembled over splasher #6 at 4,900 feet. The group did not make it's rendezvous with the 13 "A" Combat Wing, so the 100th "A" group tacked on to the 13 "B" Combat Wing, flying as an extral high group. This was at 1049 hours at 14,700 feet over splasher #6.
- 2. Aircraft not attacking; twenty aircraft deprted splasher 6 in formation. Twenty aircraft were dispatched.

Aircraft # 42-38018 ditched and the crew was rescued #42-30788 is missing. No more inform tion is available.

ADDITIONAL NARRATIVE

The 100th "A" Group flew as an extra high group stepped up from the low group of the 13th "B" Combat Wing, instead of with the 13th "A" Wing as briefed. With the two 100th Groups flying in the same formation the enemy coast was crossed at 1128 hours and the course was held good through the IP at 49 01 03 N, 11 30 E. The bombs were away at 1406 hours. Coming out the enemy coast was reached at 1634 and due to the shortage of gasolene a heading straight to the base was taken.

Bombing results were believed excellent, although it was rather har rather hard to decide actual postion of bomb strikage due to the fact that the target was still smouldering from hits rendered it by the 15th Air Force earlier in the day. It was difficit to indentify the airming point due to smoke. The bombing run was made manually. Photos show that the entire target area was covered by billowing smoke.

Hight single engined aircraft attacked our Lead Group in the vicinity of Luxemburg, but in spite of their a gressiveness they were driven off by the escort. In the vicinity of Stuttgart other enemy attacks were made but again the escort was excellent. Hnemy aircraft were usually unable to make more than one pass at the formations before they were engaged. Intense barrages of anti-aircraft were encountered over Saarbrucken area, and at Regensburg. Flak at coast was meager.

One of our aircraft is missing from the formation. #788 was hit by flak in the target area and fell out of formation.

There is some quaestion as to whether it was the B-17 seen to go down in a spin, break up in the air then crash and explode, or whether it was another that straggled behind and was shot down at 1536 hours. From the first no shutes were seen, from the second four. Members of this crew are as follows: Its S A

McClain, J D McFride, P Mordkowitz, H E Glasco, T/Sgts S H

Kuntz, A E Fernandez, S/Sgts L H Bennett, C P Zukowski, G Knud

Our aircraft #018 lost one engine just south of Nuremburg and dropped bombs at 4906-0923 E. Lt Stout the pilot, then joined the 95th Group formation and flew back to the English Channel where he ditched. All the crew members were rescued.

OPERATIONAL NARRATIVE, FEB 28 Crossbow

- 1. The 100th Group took off at 1210 hours. By 1243 hours the group formation had assembled over Diss.
- 2. Aircraft not attacking: Twenty-one aircraft departed this base in formation. Aircraft 42-3508 turned back at 1307 hours, from altitude 10,000 feet. Twenty-one aircraft were dispatched.

All of our aircraft returned.

ADDITIONAL NARRATIVE.

The target were installations in Northwest France, but no bombs were dropped. Visibility was very poor in target area with one squadron being unable to pick up the target in its sights after three bombing runs.

There were no enemy aircraft seen, and moderate flak was encountered in Dieppe, and Abbevikle areas.

OPERATIONAL NARRATIVE, PERRUARY 29 ERUNS ICK

- 1. The 100th Romb Group formation took off at 0700 hours. By 0935 hours the group formation had assembled at 2,500 feet over Splasher #6. At 0800 hours the rendervous was made with the 390th Group at 10,000 feet over Buncher #11. For the route flown, times and formation refer to log, track chart and nav. narrative.
- 2. Aircraft not att cking: Twenty-one aircraft departed Splasher 6 in formation.

Aircraft #42-31767 turned back at 0805, altitude 12,000 feet. #42-37800 turned back at 1104 hours from 21,000 feet after having bombed. Twenty aircraft were dispatched.

All our aircraft returned.

ADDITIONAL NARRATIVE

The I. The I.P. was reached at 1112 hours at which time bomb bay doors were opended and a yellow yellow flare fired from the lead ship to indicate that bombs would be dropped on the Pathfinder. At 11192 bombs were away on the pathfinder over the city of Brunswick. However, a minute and a half earlier an accidental bomb releasewas made by the left wing ship of the lead of the 100th Group and the majority of the ships dropped on him. Some crew members noted fires burning through the 10/10 undercast but phots show nothing.

Elying as low group in the 13th Combat Wing we drew no enemy fighter attacks. An attack was seen against an abortive B-17 but our escort drove them away. An intense barrage of flak was at the target. Light elsewhere.

AN EIGHTH AAF BO BER STATION, England -- A Flying Fortress pilot and members of his crew stood before Frig. Gen. Curtis E. LeMay while the general pinned on their blouses some of the highest decorations for valor within the gift of the Amercian people.

There were Silver Stars for 1st Lt Robert Rosenthal, pilot, a former New York lawyer, 1f 1595 13th St., Brooklyn; for S/Sgt Loren F. Darling, right waist Gunner, 22, of Sac City, Iowa; and for S/Sgt John Shaffer Jr, left waist gunner, of Curwensville Pa.

To six others went the Distinguished Flying Cross; 2/Lt Ronald C. Bailey, navigator, of 83 vermont Ave., Hempstead, L.I.; 2nd Lt Winfrewy T. Lewis, co-pilot, of 1902 Taugh Drive, Houston, Texas; 2/Lt Clifford T. Milburn, bombardier, 22, of 6424 Ellis Ave, Chicago; T/Sgt Muchael v. Boccuzzi, 21, radio operator, of 31 Mission St, Stamford, Conn; T/Sgt William J. DeRlasio, 19, tail gunner, of 44 So Trenton Ave, ilkinsburg, Ta., and T/Sgt Clarence C. Hall, 22, and top turret gunner, of Perry, Fla.

And to the ball turret gunner, S/Sgt Ray H. Robinson, 24, of 715 Fourth St. Arkansas City, Kansas, and Oak Leaf Cluster to the Air Meddl previously awarded him.

The decorations will help the crew remember what happened on October 10, 1943 though it is unlikely that any of them will forget.

That was the day the Flying Fortress Rosie's Riveters took off to help bomb Munster, one of the thirteen planes in their group, and came back six or seven hours later all alone, two engines blasted out, wings riddled with rocket holes, hudraulic and oxygen systems shattered, and made a miracle landing without benefit of flaps or brakes. It was Rosie's Riveters against the Luftwaffe that day, and it was her second mission.

The crew couldn't give amny particulars of what had happened to the other twelve lanes of their group. They told of a nightmare of flak and swerms of enemy fighters, or this was in October, before the Eighth Air Force was able to fill the air over enemy targets with fighters of its own. Worst of all, they said, were the rockets - squads and platoons of ME 110's lining up just out of machine gun range and showering the fortresses with flaming missles that looked as big as hogsheads as they streaked past.

They had seen unforgetable sights - bombers dropping in flamew out of formation - bombers exploding like bursts of flak to the right and left; stricken fighters plunging to their doom - until the whole upper air was a carnival of fiery destruction and sudden death.

They knew that their group had closed up and closed again as gaps were blasted in their ranks, until finally Rosie's Riveters was left alone, at the beginning of its bomb run over the target. One engine had been destroyed already, and a huge hole in the left wing showed where a rocket had entered from behind and exploded between two of the Fort's big gas tanks.

Pilot Rosenthal made a quick decision. A lone wortress, under fighter attack, is a poor risk on a bombing run. But there was a target, and Roseie's Riveters, sole survivor of her group and win a green crew, went in on her run, flying smooth and steady and level, a perfect target for everything the Luftwaffe had in the air nd on the ground. And held her course until Bombardier Milburn yelled "Bombs away" and she was fee to fight her way home. From Muenster to the French coast it was a dogfight.

Two, three and four at a time the gighters came in at her.

Another engine was knocked out, the oxygen system crippled. A 20 mm. cannon shell screamed into the waist and exploded, wounding both waist gunners. Sgt. Shaffer went out cold; but Sgt Darling, though hard hit in the head and hands, stayed at his gun fighting off vicious and persistent attacks, until he collapsed from shock and exhaustion.

Then the ball turret guns went silent, the guns hopelessly frozen.

Boccuzzi, the radio operator, had been having a busy half hour. His 50 caliber had destroyed one Focke Wulf, warded off numerous fierce attacks. Now, according to his citation "observing that oth waist gunners had been seriously wounded, Sgt. Boccuzzi, assisted by the ball turret gunner (Sgt. Robinson) carried his wounded comrades to the radio compartment and secured a supply of oxyg n for them. Having accomplished this he returned to the waist section, which was entirely unprotected, and manned the left waist gun vintil all danger of further attacks had ceased."

Meanwhile far back in the tail gun postiion, Sgt De Blasio had been having himself quite a field day. He is credited with having destroyed two Focke Wulf 190's with damaging others. Lt Bailey took time out from his navigation to man the nose gun and cripple a fourth enemy fighter. Sgt Hall, in the top turret, kept the air above clear of fighters, and his companions still claim he destroyed two fighters, he never bothered to claim. And Rosenthal and his co-pilot Lewis, sweated at their controls, swinging the ship in evasive action, nursing their two remaining engines and sweating out the gasoline supply. Bombardier Milburn had turned himself into a gunner, and fought off nose attacks with Bailey.

Bailey and Milburn told how Sgt Darling, left wounded in the radio compartment, now appeared in the nose to assist in locating Rosie's home field, a difficult assignment because of the heavy gof which had closed in over the English meadows during the Afternoon.

Together they brought Rosie's Riveters home to a safe landing, although to this day Rosenthal and Lewis couldn't tell you just how the landing was made. Somehow they all stayed in one piece and walked away from it, though Rosie herself looked like something out of a junk heap, and what the ground crew had to do to her shouldn't happen to a Fortress.

AN EIGHT AAF HOWER STATION, England -- Captain William D. De Sanders, Flying Fortress pilot and Flight Commander whose plane, 'Alice from Dallas" has introduced the Nazis by proxy to the Captain's wife for whom the ship was named, has completed his operational tour with the Eighth Air Force, winding up a colorful career in this thearter with a flight over the Pas de Calais area which proved to be anything but strenuous.

Captain DeSanders, who wears the Purple Heart, Air Medal with several Oak Leaf Clusters, and who has participated in many of the notable fortress attacks on occupied territory, has the distiction of being the last of the original officer personnel of his squadron to finish his tour.

Captain DeSanders, before the war a student at the University 6 Missouri, lives at 4405 Fairfax Ave, Dallas. He was married while in the service to 'Alice from Dallas' and only a few weeks ago received word that he was the father of a baby girl.

The captain has participated in many or the notable flying fortress attacks on enemy and occupied territory. One of his closest calls came recently on a visit to the same Pas De Calais section, when he brought home his plane with her rudder shot up, two engines knocked out by flak and all engine controls shot away. Bothe he and his partner in the cockpit, Major Albert M. Elton off Atlanta, Ga., were wounded slightly by flak, DeSanders in the leg and Elton in the eye. The pilots managed to get home and land safely, but then had great difficulty in taxiing their ship off the runway, since they could not control their remaining engines. Finally they settled for a tow tractor.

Captain DeSanders lost his entire original crew early in his tour of operations when they elected to fly with another pilot on a day when he was grounded for illness. The mission was over Kiel, and the plane did not return. He participated in the record bombing attack on installations at Trondheim, Norway, which still rates as the record B-17 mission, in point of distance, and has helped bomb Bremen, Emden, Stutgart, Mariensburg, Paris, St. Mazaire, Gelsenkirchen, and other towns whose defenses are rated highly by Eighth AAF airmen. For meritorious achievement during an attack on Frankfurt, Capt. DeSanders has been recommended for the DFC.

AN EIGHTH AAF BOMEER STATION, England -- The flying fortress, "Fools Rush In", really rushed into something during the recent Eighth AAF bombing attack against Braunschweig, Germany when they encountered about everything the Luftwaffe had including a fourengined German fighter which shot down a crippled B-17 in sight of the hard pressed crew.

The pilot of "Fools Rush In" 2nd Lt Love, reported seeing about 75 enemy fighters including Focke Wulfs, Messerchmitts and night fighters or the JU-88 variety. Pilot Love, whose home is at 1310 Liberty St, Jacksonville, Fla. reported no direct attack on his own plane. The German fighters in the main went after ships that were crippled by anti-aircraft fire and straggling.

The four engined fighter, attacked a straggler from another formation of Forts and pursued it about a mile beyond the point where the crew of "Fools Rush In" first observed it. The German ship had a twin-tail. It attacked the Fortress head-on, and sent the American bomber down. After shooting down the B-17 the German plane did a wing-up, its four engines plainly visible. According to descriptions of this ship by members of Love's crew the German plane resembled a Blohm and Voss transport.

While no direct attack was made on Pilot Love's ship or those in his own formation, other formations were engaged in savage fighting. From a higher attitude, crew members of "Fools Rush In" could see the spectacle of dog-fighting planes grappling all over the sky. German planes dived through one formation and pull ed up under another. At times the air was falled with burning aircraft and furious dogfights. One particularly het bit of action was observed when P-38 fighters took on a bunch of twin-engined Messerschmitt 210s.

Methodically Pilot Love brought his ship over the target and dropped his load of bombs then flew back again. So far as "Fools Rush In" it was a quiet day their own particular portion of the substratosphere being somewhat like an oasis of peace in the midst of Armageddon, but what Pilot Love and his crew saw from the upper balcony will remain long in their memories as one of the most savage spectacles of aerial warfare.

AIRCRAFT ACCIDENTS

There was just one aircraft accident during the mothh of February on this station and itdid not involve a ship of this Group. However, on the 23 of February at 1404 hours, Lt. William B. Adams, of the 453 Bombardment Group landed on runway 35 of this station and overshot into a road some 200 yards beyond the end. The airplane had fifteen men aboard, including a fewry crew that it was delivering, but none sustained serioux injury.

The cause of the accident must be attributed to pilot error. The aircraft did not touch until it was nearly half way down the runway. Both brakes worked and held since tire marks were visible on 1,00 to 500 yards of cement.

Fire started inside the plane but the crash crew immediately extinguished it before it spread to the gasoline. The entire nose section of the aircraft was destroyed and smashed in, the landing gear was ruined and #1 and #2 engines and propellers damaged.

Three men: 2nd Lt. Kenneth A. Samuelson, T/Sgt Morris S. Harriman and S/Sgt Clarence N. Everheart were pinned under the ship in such a postion that extreme care had to be taken in removing them. Though their injuries were not sevious they were taken to the 231st Station Hospital.

AWARDS

The following General Orders, Headquarters 3d Bombardment Division, contain citations making awards to members of this command during the month of February 1944:

Numbers: 29, 30, 31, 35, 37, KK,

Listed below the General Orders of Headquarters Eighth Air Force:

Numbers: 28, 53, 59, 67, 71, 72, 77, 82, 84, 13, 91, 92, 95, 96, 97, 100, 102, 105, 106, 107, 108.

The awards for the month were all for meritorious or extraordinary achievement or wounds received in action. There were no awards during the month granted members of this Group for "heroism".

STATION LIFE

Athletics

February brought an end to the basketball activities for this station's "off-base" teams. Having finished the Bury St. Edmonds 3d Division League in first and second places in the five and six o'clock leagues respectively, our teams were expected to show great things in their tournament playoffs. To simplify the tourney each station floored but one team, those with more than one pooling their players. This may or may not have unbalanced our combinations, but it cost extinction.

Our team played two games. The first against Nettersham was a fairly one-sided affaire with the opponents getting away nicely and coasting to a 45 - 36 victory. Fighting for a show place in the round robin meet, we next met Great Ashfield. Opening up a nice lead our boys held a four point lead up to the last two minutes, only to see it vanish with the game when the depot boys sank three quickies. The second defeat read 48 - 46. In a sort of act of self-justification, both teams were invited to this station for another look-see and both received rough treatment in the hands of the home towners, our boys ending up with ten or so points to spare in both events. Looking back on the season as a whole, our outfit did a good job considering the late start and training limitations during the early season. We hope that the boys will be playing City Service teams in Scranton and Walla

Walla by the time next season rolls around.

In the Inta-Base League there was no let-up but the competition narrowed the running down to two teams that will meet in a three game play-off in March. The teams represent the 349 Bomb Sq and the 350 Bomb Sq. Though the 349 suffered a defeat it has developed into a combination that should win handily.

Boxing

February gave the station two boxing shows in the RLister Hangar. Interest in the sport has developed nicely since we sent sent a couple of leather throwers to Bury in the early winter. The first scraps of the month featured a six round card with the presence of Capt. Steve Hamas as referie doing much to fill the house.

In the first bout Sgt Polby Deane, who did a bit of pre-war time in the squared circle around Bean Town, crossed two nice smashes to the chop of one Pete Castro of the 349th and that was that. The gong sounded after 28 seconds of the first. Next came Livingston of the 1776 Ord. Co. with a close decidion over Pfc Johnny "Canvas Back" D'Amico also of the 349th. In the next contest Sgt Glen Siebel of the 1776th TKO'& M/Sgt Boyle in the first at the same time putting him on crutches with a broken ankle. After the bout Poyle was heard to murmur "I've been struck a low blow."

ATHLETICS

Sgt Dineen decidioned Donley of the 869th Chemical. In a stevedore battle reminiscent of the pier days, Dick Gwynn of the 350th Fomb Sq patrolled Bostwick of the MP company in three rough rounds. In the last bout Willie Grindle of the 349th and the Special Services Department slugged out a decision of Cpl Hervey "Big North" Woods of the 351st.

Judges for the bouts were Colonel Harding, station commander, Capt. Von Premer, and Lt. Ray Miles.

On February 28th another six bout show, matched, promoted, and announced by Pfc Joe (he helped to put up the ring) Mulinari packed the house. It is estimated that 1400 khaki clads spun the turnstiles in the blister hangar, principally because no one even passed a hat. But the show was worth a bob or two.

In the first contest, Livingston worked out a hard decision over Joe D'Amico, followed by George Huesner, 418th Sq, outpointing Jimmy Dineen of the 351st. Matched by popular demand, Sgt Poley Dean again went the route with Pete Castro taking the nod on points. Next Sgt Wort of the 28th Station Complement TKO'd Cpl Federici of the 349th. In a heavyweight bout 218 lb. Sgt Ben (Big Horn) Garber pounded out a one sided decision over Sgt Oblack of the 28th. In the exciting last bout Cpl Billy Grindle lost imminent victory in the third round when both fighters toppled through the ropes and Pvt. Manny Gonzales, 1776 Ord Co, was the only one who could clammer back in.

ATHLETICS (cont'd)

Judges for the matches were Col. Harding, Major Logan, and Lt Bailey of 3d Division. The ref. assignment was divided between Mr. Pearson of the Bury Red Cross and Lt Ray Miles.

It was announced that the 3d Division championships would be held at this station on March 22nd.

Efforts to put over an athletic program solely for the combate crews during their hours of ease seemed destined to lay an egg. Principle reason seemed to be that the winged ones were pretty well occupied and the moments of freedom during the month were spent in well-deserved sack time or on pass. However, It.

Neighbors, realizing that athletics should be a vital part of their program has set up, beside the basketball floor, volley ball and badmington courts in the blister hangar. Also planned to take the place of the waning hoop season is a volley ball loop.

Special Services kept up its full agenda of liberty runs, USO shows and movies. By far the most popular morale factor on this or any station is the motion picture theater, take it or leave it. I don't know just what a good projector and sound track on one of these small machines should sound like, but if it should be like ours is the majority of the time, then it shouldn't happen to a dog. If a good outfit could be gotten on this station for keeps it sure would be appreciated.

RED CROSS ACTIVITIES

The Aero Club has reached a point very nearly perfect as proved by the administrative inspection last month, and as the months go by there is not much more they can do about it except keep up the good work and add new things every now and then. To the enlisted men the Aero Club and the Red Cross activities represent an organ that has become accepted and could not be dispensed with. To the officers just the girls faces when they drop in for chow every now and then ain't hay, brother. Of all the good ideas in this world I think Miss (or Mrs.)

Barton's was about the best. That vote makes it unanimous.

So our club added a lady with a sewing machine and fifteen new tables in the snak bar and fought like hell for a larger variety of food and even threw in a Bingo night with pries to boot. They worked harder when a personnel shortage caused their enlisted help to be withdrawn and even cut down on the civilian payroll so that Red Cross monyays could be spread further.

More objectively, there were three outside speakers during February arranged in conjunction with Special Services. Chapain James Burris spoke on Tunisia, Jerusalem and the rest of the Near East and the goings on about Teheren. It was war in those campagns, against the true life background of the sections and damn good too. John Dobbs from the Ministry of Information spoke on the growth of Japan as a World power with perfundity, and Colonel Holman James spoke on just about everything that you might want to know about and exhibited his Australian horse whip at the same time.

GROUND SCHOOL

Thirteen missions credited during the month, a couple scrubbed, practice missions whenever possible, and it becomes difficult to fit in many hours of ground school. On the 23rd ten new crews came in and the lecture hall back tracked to quickly to process them with the indoctrination proceedure.

Some of the new topics noted during the period were as follows. A Captain Corley of an airbourne outfit lectured on the paratroops. It was an interesting looksee into what the other half is doing and was planned to give specific ideas of what to do and not to do if you ever find yourself mixed up in a bit of combined operations. A representative of the Minneapolis Honeywell Co., Mr. Hanson, told the Pilots, Co-pilots, Engineers, and Radio Operators some more about the electronic surpercharger, with good results. There was an excellent movie on thunderstorms proving but definitely the advisability or turning right, or left if you'd rather, when confronted by something that looks like it might have gravel in it. It showed the effects on the aircraft of thunderstorm action.

Gunnery was stressed. The group gunnery officer, Maj. Cohen gave a course harmonization of guns to all personnel in the crew who handle them; so that they will be able to harmonize them instead of relying on the armament personnel.

HEALTH

With the summer months coming on, outside activities increasing, the station health should improve and loss of man days decrease. During the month of February there were 1356 days total lost due to medical reasons on this field of over 3,000 men. Though the third lowest in the division it should decrease rapidly due to the warm weather.

41 cases of respiratory diffections were hospitalized.

In the comparison with the days back in the fall when this base seemed destined to carry off all honors for venerial desease cases there were only 6 cases during the month.

There were three battle casualty cases involving wounds.

Chester L. Powell suffered moderately severe frostbite of the buttocks, Robert Euchanan was wounded in the left foot by flak, and James Yarnall was wounded by 30 cal. fire both in the shoulder blake and ringer, causing amputation of the latter. The single frostbite case marked a big improvement over previous months and over the experiences of the rest of the Division.

or missing in action on missions. S/Sgt Ralph Buchanan of the 351st died from a fractured skull suffered when he fell from the window of a London Hotel room. The fall was accidental resulting from neglegence of the hotel management in failing to mark an exit from a bathroom that led to a 20 foot drop. The death was in line of duty.

MONTHLY SUMMARY

BOMBING ACCURACY

of the thirteen accredited missions run by the looth Pombardment group during the month of February 1944 only eight produced any results worth mentioning. Following is a brief resume of each mission from the standpoint of bombing.

The mission of the 3rd was a Pathfinder mission with both of the PFF ships attached to this group going out before the target was reached. The 95A Group returned with some strike photos showing terrain which could positively be identified as a section 4 ½ miles NE of the center of Emden near a village of Suurhusen. Hits were made on railroads and roads. Pictures from cameras in 100A Group show the same district and their bombing is assumed to parable1 that of the 95A Group. The 100B Group bombed thru thick clouds.

of the aircraft during their lomb run. From compensations based on trajectory charts and the photos, bombs fell 4 miles HNE of the center of Frankfurt in an area containing a railroad, portion of the village of Rumpenheim, and farmland. This holds true for both the 100A and B Groups. This was also a pathfinder mission.

on the 5th there was visual bombing, the 100th missing the assigned MPI giving a circular error of 1600 feet. However, the in Villacoublay rea. pattern which was 3000' x 2000' well covered a group of workshops.

Since the primary target was obscured by clouds on the February 6th mission, the lead bombardier picked two secondary targets finally ending with a run on the Evreux-Fauville airdrome. Most of the bombs feel short and to the right of the runway and fields, but knocked hell out of a hangar, workshops, roads, and operations buildings.

On the 10th the 100th bombed on the 390th, releasing bombs when the formation was over the center of Brunswick. According to computations based on trajectory charts bombs fell in fields  $2\frac{1}{2}$  miles from the town. Because of the overcast and insufficient photos there could be no actual bomb charts.

Photos of the mission into France on the 13th show excellent bombing. A Noball mission, the Group bombed by squadrons, two groups bombed by squadrons, rather. All of 100th "B" put them in the 2000' doughnut with about 50% of the bombfall within 1000'. For two squadrons of "A" Group the results were the same, but due to smoke the bombfall of the third squadron could not be plotted.

The mission on the 20th was strictly PFF, no more, no less.

On the 21st "A" Group hit the airfield at Ahlhorm but no bomb charts could be made because it was a target of opportunity and there was no assigned aiming point. Those who were there say the bombing was good, and they were there. Whatever the "B" Group bombed, their pattern reveals that they were about 1000' over the aiming point and consequently lander mostly outside the built-up area of the field.

Mission of the 22nd was recalled; with no bombing. The 24th was pathfinder with no visual results. On the 25th about 55 bomb bursts were seen West of the target inflicting no damage. The Regensburg smoke obscured any further results. On the 28th they went to France but returned without bombing due to poor visability. The last mission on February 29th was pathfinder.

TO COLOR

It is interesting to note that on Noball targets where bombing was done visually, the 3rd Division prefered to bomb by squadron on 28 attacks during the month as against under 10 for both the 1st and 2nd Divisions. Proving the wisdom of this selection is the following table of comparative efficiency of the two types of bombing as displayed in the 3rd Division.

By Group		By Squadron
1000:	2000*	1000*	2000*
28%	53%	83%	95%

EQUIPMENT PROBLEMS

February noted little slakening of the cold weather with temperatures at 25,000 feet averaging between 35 and 45 degrees below zero. Since shortage of good electrical clothing has been the major problem of the equpment officer, it is heartening to note that there was but one case of frostbite, and that was of the buttocks from you know what. This record is mostly due to the fact that more of the clothing is coming in, and that the new crews are coming over more thoroughly equipped. For a while in early

EQUIPMENT PROFLEMS (cont'd)

February the shortage of electrical footwear demanded that a modification be done using the Fritish sock. However American shoes came in in sufficient quantity to dispense with that.

Aside from these things and with warmer weather coming on, the equipment officer is beginning to like his job.

ADMINISTRATION

The drain on personnel from this station is something that is startling the command section but assyst hasn't effected its efficient. Whether the final removal of large groups of personnel working here on temporary duty will have any further effect only the future will show. It is felt by some that with the purpose, the number of aircraft and crews, doubled, the sections cannot stand reduction. However, efficiency through practice may counterbalance the loss.

Starting on the 16 of February, per Special Order 47, 3d Bomb Division, Officers and Enlisted Men were assigned to the yet inactive 493d Bombardment Group. Though the actual date of the activation is not yet known by us, some sixty men have already been assigned from the sections of the Group, and with no promise of their replacement, the loss will inevitably be felt. Among the Officers on orders, are 1st Lt Louis Mosher, 1st Lt Edwin A Walten Jr, 1st Lt Richard O Newton, and 1st Lt Richard C Nordrum, all of whom filled minor positions on this station.

ADMINISTRATION

Another vital personnel change took place the end of February though it did not actually become official until the 4th of March. Col Robert F Flesher, per Special Order 64, 3d Bomb Division, was transfered to the 92d Combat wing where it is expected he will take up chores as the wing Operations officer. To fill the vacancy of Air FAectutive on this station
Lt. Col. John Bennett was moved from the command of the 349th Bomb Sq., his former job being filled by Capt. Sam L. Barr.

JOURNAL OF THE 349th SQUADRON, 100th BOMBARDMENT GROUP (H), for the month of FEBRUARY, 1944.

For this Squadron, as well as for the whole 8th Air Force, February, 1944, was a new record month for number and intensity of operations, marking the real beginning of the super-offensive against Germany from the air. Despite almost invariably fouldwesther, with visual bombing seldom possible, our planes went out on twelve completed missions, and dropped more than 400,000 pounds of high explosive and incendiary bombs on Germany and German Europe.

High point of this busy month was the mission to Regensburg, one of the prime targets of the Reich, with its concentration of fighter aircraft factories. On the first and only other attack on this objective, the historic shuttle mission on 17 August 1943, the 349th lost two planes and crews, while the others came through only by seeming miracles; on the second trip, 25 February, all our planes save one came home unscathed by enemy fighters, and only lightly peppered with flak. The one lost plane turned back enroute to the target because of engine trouble, and was forced to ditch in the English Channel; all the crew were rescued intact, except for one member slightly hurt in the ditching.

Aside from accelerated operations, our month was marked by an unsual number of combat men's completing their twenty-five-mission tours; there were fifteen who finished, some of them soon to be transferred either home or to other organizations in the ETO, others to remain with the Squadron or Group at least for a time, in ground duties.

Our losses in men and materiel for the month were severe, though not equalling our worst previous month. Besides the ditched plane, two others, with all their crews, were missing in action during February.

The daily journal:

Feb.1: Routine activities; no mission.

3: Ten of our planes went to Wilhelmshaven, through very bad weather. The Pathfinder bombing equipment failed, but bombs were dropped on what was believed to have been the target city. no fighters were encountered, and only normal ground fire. All returned.

4: Frankfurt was the target today, and flak was extremely intense and accurate. One of our aircraft, commanded by

Lt. J. W. Brown, failed to return; it took off late and never joined our formation, so nothing could be learned as to how or where it went down. On this trip, our crews were startled to encounter, soon after crossing the enemy coast at above 20,000 feet, a barrage balloon, unleashed and dangling its cable. Our formation was temporarily disrupted as pilots swerved to avoid the sky derelict.

5: With Paris as their primary target, nine of our planes were dispatched today. The vicinity of the French metropolis was obscured, however, and our formation sought, and found an open target of opportunity in an enemy airdrome at Villacoubley. As Lead Bombardier for the Group, Capt. Joseph P. Armanini of the 349th pinpointed this mark, and the bombing on his lead was very accurate and destructive. Considerable flak was met, but all returned intact.

6: Another German air base in France was hit by our planes today. Four of ours bombed a field at Evreux-Fauville, meeting no opposition save moderate flak, and suffering no loss.

7, 8, 9: No pperational activities; routine ground duties.

10: Under extremely bad weather conditions--clouds, snow, sleet alow and aloft all the way--five of our planes went on a mission to Brunswick, and one, piloted by Lt. Dale O. Croft, did not return, whether lost to weather or enemy action nobody could tell. Several of our ships which did get back to England were forced to land at other bases by the elements.

11; 12: Nothing worthy of record.

13: Eleven of our planes got a true "milk run" to one of the mystery targets near Calais; a minimum of flak, no fighters, no losses.

20: In another blind hunt over cloud-swathed Nortern Germany, six of our planes went out, and all returned, having fought off several fighter assaults. T/Sgt. Murry W. Holditch claimed one enemy downed. The primary target for this mission was Stettin, but the bombing, through clouds, was on military installations at Arnimswalde, Germany.

target for today, in an uneventful mission including ten of our planes. This was another in the mounting instances of our fighter escort's power to protect our bombers from the Luftwaffe. All our planes came home intact, and the whole air force suffered but slight loss, despite the fact this blow was delivered in the heart of one of the great German interceptor belts. Five combat men of our Squadron made their twenty-fifth sorties today.

22: Nine of our ships set out this morning for Germany, but were recalled from over the North Sea because of impossible weather.

23: Routine activities.

24: This was the beginning of a two-day endurance grind for several of our air crews. Hight of our planes went out to Mostock, far up on the Baltic coast; one of them, the veteran "Squawkin Hawk", #088, turned back because of flak damage to an engine. The remainder bombed the target and got home ten and one half hours after taking off. They had experienced no trouble from enemy fighters, but had encountered lots of ground fire. Six of our airmen finished their tours today.

25: The Second Battle of Regensburg--and what a contrast to our previous attack on that vital enemy center!

SECRET

On the original attack, our planes were under furious, numerically great, and almost continous onshaughts by Jerry's best fighters for some three hours -- all the way across southern Germany. This second time, we had the boon of effective escort virtually all the way in and all the way out; the Luftwaffe came up, all right, but usually to be met by our great long-range Mustangs or Lightnings or Thunderbotts. Ships of the 349th were undamaged by fighters; flak, which was fairly intense at various points along the route and very severe over Regensburg, punctured our planes freely, but only "Squawkin Hawk" (088), flying its 45th mission, was seriously crippled. A direct burst practically blasted the tail off this veteran Fortress, and the pilot, Lt. John G. Gossage, took a poll of his crew (themselves mostly veterans) as to whether they should head for Switzerland or try to struggle home. The latter course was adopted; the boys with only one or two or three missions to fly before finishing chose to take the long chance of surviving to enjoy the rewards of completing their tours, rather than the more probable prospect of indefinite internment. By vittue of old "Squawkin Hawk's" inherent toughness, and Lt. Gossage's inspired flying, they did get home, to land at a field a few miles from our own, all personell unhurt, and the grand old Fortress still sound enough to be repaired and get back in the war within a couple of weeks.

Lt. Col. John M. Bennett, Jr., commander of the 349th, led the Group on this Second Battle of Regensburg, and naturally our Squadron led the flew in the lead position. Bombing results, on an aircraft factory, were very satisfactory.

Our plane which was forced to turn back by engine trouble, and eventually to ditch off Dover, was piloted by Lt. James R. Stout. The British Air-Sea Rescue service was on the scene with motor boats in less than half an hour, and salvaged our airmen undamaged, save for one officer-Lt. Polak--who suffered a painful minor injury in the ditching. Incidentally, The loss of this plane was not entirely without compensation, for, as it limped out of Germany, the bombardier dumped his load squarely in the middle of an anonymous German town.

26, 27: No missions; routine camp activities.

28: Five of our planes took off to hit the mystery targets near Calais; there was a heavy undercast at the objective, and no attempt was made to bomb it. Some flak was encountered, but all our ships came home untouched.

29: To close the month most satisfactorily, we sent six planes on a mission to Brunswick. All came back sound; bombing was thought to have been accurate, and fighter escort was pronounced flawless—the best yet.

DIARY OF 351st BOMBARDMENT SQUADRON, 100 BOMB GROUP, FOR MONTH OF FEBRUARY 1944.

The mighty aerial onslaught to pulverize prime Axis military targets in preparation for opening the Second Front reached new heights during February 1944 when combat airmen of the 351st Bombardment Squadron contributed their share of the hazardous tasks by making 108 sorties and dropping the greatest tonnage of high explosive and incendiary bombs ever destined for enemy objectives during any preceding month, a record of the month's activities discloses. The increase in aerial operations far overshadowed all other events in February affecting the squadron.

Besides participating in bigger and more concentrated raids, the squadron was fortunate in achieving the feat of all combat personnel and planes returning safely from a record-smashing ordeal of 13 missions. This encouraging news from the aerial front line raised hopes of many that a speedier end of hostilities in the European Theater of Operations could be expected. The month's amazing operational record easily surpassed that for January when only seven recognized missions were made. The absence of casualties was an outstanding feature of February's activities, a marked improvement over January.

The frequency of raids hastened the completion of combat duty for seven officers and two enlisted men. This group was transferred to the 12 RCD, where most everyone is believed to have received orders for returning to the states on a 30-day furlough before reporting for a new assignment.

A tragedy was recorded for February claiming the life of S/Sgt. Ralph Buchanan, a bombsight maintenance man. Buchanan, whose home was in Green Castle, Pa., died February 4 in a London hospital as a result of injuries sustained in accidentally falling from the second floor of a London building two days previously. The victim, who had been a member of the squadron since nearly the beginning, was buried in Brookwood cemetery near London.

Other events ranking fairly high in the way of interest included the presentation of the Distinguished Flying Cross to T/Sgt. Raymond Harjo, receipt of a direct second lieutenancy commission by S/Sgt. Donald O. Ellis, and the good record made at times by the basketball team and boxers.

Harjo received the DFC citation February 16 for displaying exceptional courage by remaining at his post as aerial engineer after being seriously wounded in the face by enemy fire while on an operational mission.

The unexpected happened to S/Sgt. Donald 0. Ellis, tail gunner who finished his 25 missions in December, when he received a favorable response from his application for a direct commission as a second lieutenant. The president's order arriving the early part of the month was unexpected in view of the fact that direct commissions to men already in uniform are considered rare. Ellis, in order to be eligible for a commission, received an honorable discharge from the army on February 7 and immediately was commissioned a second lieutenant. Lieutenant Ellis is now a gunnery officer at a nearby bomber base in the ETO.

The squadron fared moderately well in athletics during the month by competing with other units on the local base in basketball and boxing. The cagers, managed by Cpl. Harvey Woods, a former star athlete in Virginia prep circles, won second-place honors in league competition for the regular season. Their record in the base tournament was not too impressive because of losing to both the 350th Bomb Squadron and to the Group Headquarters detachment. During the regular season, the 351st quintet annexed encounters from the 418th squadron, 28th Station Compliment squadron, 1776 Ordnance company, 1276 Military Police company and the Group Headquarters team.

The high cage scorers for the squadron were S/Sgt. James Schollard and Sgt.

Rudolph Zulkiewicz, both playing guard positions. Other first team members were Cpl. Harvey Woods and S/Sgt. John Bergstrom, forwards, and Ffc. Howard Swank, center.

Substitutes included Sgt. Donald Conklin, Cpl. Salvatore Sogga and Pfcs. Arthur W.

Gretenhart, John Atkinson and Ernest Jiminez.

In boxing, four members of the squadron participated in bouts staged by the base emerging with three wins and three defeats. Sgt. Paul Deane maintained a spotless record by triumphing on two occasions. Cpl. James J. Dineen tasted both victory and adversity in his two ring appearances. Deane, a 135-pounder, scored a quick win in his debut match by gaining an 18-second knockout. His second victory was a three-round decision. The remaining two fistic setbacks were chalked against M/Sgt. Robert Boyle in the 180-pound class, and Cpl. Harvey Woods, entered in the 170-weight category.

grade are as follows: M/Sgt--Trafford Curry; T/Sgt--Henry C. Verdeur and Charles H. Ford; S/Sgt-Alfred M. Hunt, Steven M. Szekely, William L. Reneau, Joe S. Folsom, Daniel J. Maddrea, James M. Roberts, Robert M. Myers, Allen D. Horton, John L. Willsey, John J. Gverovich and Fair C. Lawrence; and Sgt -- James M. Chase and Michael Schuster.

The squadron received seven new officers most of whom were assigned as replacements. Among this group were five combat officers. They included 2nd Lts. Albert A. Marchiando, Charles W. Mylius, Jr., Charles J. Galligan, Warren G. McCoy and Norman T. High. The ground newcomers were 1st Lts. Jack Bauman and Francis G. King, both assigned to the S-2 department.

New arrivals among enlisted personnel were seven airmen and eight members for the ground echelon. The combat men included T/Sgt. Dorsett C. Bennett, S/Sgts. James R. Russell, Herbert D. Fern and Vincent J. Wood, Sgts. Carleton E. Brown and Charles E. McSpadden and Pvt. Edmond J. Sullivan. The other arrivals were Cpls. James G. Fitzgerald and John W. Laudenslager, Pfcs. Billy M. Kimmel, Frank J. Alberti, Louis G. Lasker, William Williamson, Elton L. Keller, and Pvt. Chester R. Lee.

Transfers of officers from the squadron which numbered 13 included nine combat officers who had finished their tour of operations. Among the combat personnel seven were sent to the 12 RCD where most are believed to have been returned to the states for a 30-day leave. Those who went to the 12 RCD were 1st Lts. Donald Davis, Henry Quilici, Leonard A. Wickens, Jack S. Neal, Edward L. Dunlap, Reuben Kelsey and Alexander Park. Two other combat officers -- 1st Lts. Paul Pascal and Eugene Mulholland were transferred to other organizations stationed in the ETO. Two other airmen--Capt. Magee Fuller and 2nd Lt. Albert A. Marchiando were assigned to the 350th Bombardment Squadron on the local operational base. Captain Fuller before the time of his departure served as squadron operations officer. The others leaving the squadron for new assignments were 1st Lts. John Schwarz and Adam Bachmann, both of whom were members of the ground echelon. Lieutenant Schwarz was transferred to 100 Bomb Group Headquarters, while Lieutenant Bachmann received his new assignment at 3rd Bomb Division Headquarters.

Two enlisted men who had finished their tour of combat missions were transferred to the 12 RCD during February for likely shipment to the states for a 30-day furlough. They included T/Sgt. Walter Probst and T/Sgt. Winfred L. Tee. Other men leaving the squadron included M/Sgt. Trafford Curry, Cpl. Richard W. Page, Pfc. Joseph W. Heitzer and Pvt. Angelo J. Genovese.

In the diary for January, promotions for five combat officers were inadvertently omitted. Advancements were 1st Lt. Robert Hughes to captaincy, and 2nd Lts. Robert J. Shoens, Donald S. Davis, John F. Massol and Alexander G. Park to first lieutenancy.
